It's been a long time since we rock and rolled!
